A. Moroso, and George C. Ruskell. It is intimated that this does r necessarily conclude the calling of wit nesses by the grand jury. It is expected that a further list of those who may throw light on the circumstances sur-rounding the granting of the telephone franchise ordinance will be called. The grand jury has still before it the study of street railway deals and spheres of in fluence, and it may be some little time before the ground is cleared for & undivided consideration of any matters of interest relating to the granting of telephone ordinances.

FOR THE PUBLIC.
The grand jury is conducting its inquiry behind closed doors as the law prescribes. RESULTS ARE EXPECTED. There was a notable increase yester-day in the general belief and sentiment in Council circles that the inquiry would result in something. At first, and for quite a time, councilmen expressed themselves as of the opinion that the whole investigation would be a fiasco. The diligent manner in which the grand jury has setted down to thorough work, however, has convinced them that there will

ASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Major James Parker, of the Adjutant-General's office, has compiled some interesting statistics regarding the insurrection in the Fallippines. It appears that there were 2,561 engagements with the enemy, more or less serious, between February 4, 1899, which is the date of the battle of Manila, and April 30, 1962, fixed as the virtual downfall of the insurrection. The larger proportion of these fights were attacks from ambush on the American troops or skirmishes, in which only small detachments took part.

"In almost no case in these engagements," says Mejor Parker, "did American troops surrender or have to retreat or have to leave their dead and younded in the possession of the enemy, notwith-

The number of troops that have been transported to the Philippines and have arrived there up to July 16th last was 4.135 officers and 122,803 men. In 1893 Mr. Charles Broadway Rouss conceived the idea of erecting a memorial hall, which should contain relies and memorials of the Confederacy from every Southern State, and be known to the world as the great Hall of Fame, from which the future historian should draw his materials, and the Southern children which the future historian should draw his materials, and the Southern children of the future should be proud to trace their descent as from the great Battle Albbey of America. He offered to give ten thousand dollars for every ten raised by the South, and to keep ten thousand dollars in advance, until a sum of two hundred thousand dollars should be secured. Half of this sum was to be spent in a building and half in an endowment fund for its perpetual maintenance.

There are pledges and claims outstanding which will shortly bring into his hands $15,000 additional, and Mr. Rouss' estate stands pledged to $0,000 more when we shall have raised a like amount. The problem before us now is to raise in Richmond and Virgirin $25,000, when, we are assured, the remaining sum will come from the South.
